

Dr. Indira Boro
Associate Professor
Department of Bodo
Bodoland University
Rangalikhata, Kokrajhar-783370
Assam, India

Residence:
Maibang Nwgr
P.O. Kokrajhar
Dist: Kokrajhar, BTAD-783370
Assam, India
Ph. No. 9954280379

Ref. No: BU/Bd/82/17

Date: 20/11/2017

Comment of Supervisor:

This research thesis is a sincere and painstaking work on 'A STUDY ON THE CULTURAL CHANGE OF THE BODO SOCIETY with special reference to Udalguri District of BTAD, Assam' by Sri Mayaram Basumatary, Research Scholar, Bodoland University, Kokrajhar. The Bodo culture is a part and parcel of our Indian culture. They have rich culture and tradition of their own which they follow traditionally. Though, it is followed traditionally, there is a subtle change taking place.

The change is a natural phenomenon. With a keen observation, the present work is an attempt to trace out and bring into light these changes. The Bodos are one of the aboriginal tribes of the North Eastern Region residing specially in Assam. The topic is a vast one. Yet, the research scholar has done it very carefully and smoothly. I hope it is a rich harvest of cultural change of the Bodo society offering a great challenge to the students, teachers and researchers alike.

Place: Rangalikhata
Date: 20th November 2017

Dr. Indira Boro
Research Supervisor
Bodoland University
Dr. L Boro
Research Guide
Associate Professor
Dept. of Boro
Bodoland University, Kokrajhar