

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It is my sincere gratitude to my supervisor Dr. Oinam Ranjit Singh, Professor (Designate), Department of History, Bodoland University, Debargaon, Kokrajhar, BTAD, Assam for the precious time and inspiration that he has given me in shaping this research work into a thesis. Indeed, it is his scholarship, which has enabled me to understand the Ethno-historical and socio-anthropological research and to complete my research work in time. I shall ever cherish his invaluable guidance, concern and constant encouragement without which my research work would not have been accomplished.

My special thanks go to Bodoland University, especially the faculty members and the office staff of the Department of History for their active cooperation and moral support extended to me from the day one till the end in pursuing my degree.

I also owe my special gratitude to all my colleagues of History Department and the Library staff, Kokrajhar Government College, Kokrajhar for extending their constant moral and material supports in doing my research work.

My special thanks to my wife Prof. Indira Boro for critically examining the arguments. I also thank all the well-wishers those who have directly or indirectly helped me in achieving my goal.

Finally, I convey my deepest gratitude to my dearest family members, my daughters for their cooperation, concern and honour for my work. Indeed, I am indebted to all my family members.
