

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It is a pleasure on my work to express my heartfelt gratitude and indebtedness to those persons who have generously taken their time and trouble to help me during the period of my research work.

First of all, I would like to extend my heartfelt gratitude to my Supervisor Dr. Mridula Devi for her generosity and effort to bring my thesis to the present shape. It is privilege to me to express my profound gratitude to her as the study could not be completed without her helpful guidance.

I take the opportunity to convey my gratefulness to Prof. Manjit Das, Department of Economics, Bodoland University, for his valuable advice and encouragement in my research work. I am deeply indebted to him for sharing valuable materials relating to my research work.

I would like to thank all the respected teachers and office staff of Department of Economics, Bodoland University, for their encouraging words and generous help.

I would like to convey my gratefulness to my friend Dr. Anamika Das for devoting her valuable time and effort in completing my research work.

I would also like to thank to the officials of the Pollution Control Board, Bamunimaidam, Guwahati and DIC, Barpeta for providing some secondary data relating to my research work.

I am really thankful to my cousin Bibhu Ranjan Das who had to bear a lot of hardship in the course of my study.

I owe a deep of gratitude to my respected parents Satyendra Kumar Das and Anima Das, my elder sister Phalguni Das, my younger sister Karabi Das who had been a source of inspiration to me in carrying out my present work.
