Acknowledgement

This research paper would not have been possible without the help of God and the generous support of many individuals. First and foremost, I am deeply grateful to God for His guidance and inspiration throughout the years of my research study.

I am profoundly indebted to my supervisor, Dr Zothanchhingi Khiangte, Assistant Professor, Department of English, Bodoland University, Kokrajhar, for her scholarly guidance that enabled me to complete this research. I extend my sincere appreciation and gratitude to her for her valuable suggestions, insights, patience, guidance, availability and continuous encouragement and support.

I thank the faculty of the Department of English, Bodoland University, Kokrajhar, for their assistance and support throughout this research. I am grateful to the Administrative Staff of Bodoland University, Kokrajhar, for their support, and availability to address my queries.

I am sincerely thankful to my provincials, Sr Alphonsa Kurisingal and Sr Mabel Gorthorp, the Sisters at Auxilium Convent, Kokrajhar, Little Flower Hr. Sec. School, Kohima, and the Salesian Sisters of the Province of Guwahati (ING) for their sisterly support, help, understanding, and prayers.

I sincerely thank Dr Francis Fernandez for offering valuable suggestions and language corrections. I also extend my gratitude to the Sisters, Fathers, friends, and family members for their encouragement, inspiration and support.

I would like to especially thank Mr Asosii Kholi, late A. Ashikho Mao, late Mrs. Pfokho Kapesa, and many others whom I met during my field visits. They generously shared their time and knowledge about the Mao Naga tribe during the interviews. I am also grateful to Mrs. Ashuli Kaisa, who assisted me with research materials. My gratitude to all those who have extended their support in various capacities.

I extend my gratitude to the librarians of Otto Hopfenmueller at Sacred Heart Theological College, Shillong, Tata Institute of Social Science (TISS), Guwahati, Tribal Research Institute, Imphal, North Eastern Social Research Centre Jagriti, Guwahati, and Heritage Publishing House, Dimapur for their help and availability.
